Statement of Faith

Tokyo Christian Institute is founded on the Biblical, historical and orthodox rule of faith, which was consistently revealed in both the Old and the New Testaments, expressed in the Ecumenical Creeds of the Ancient Church, and proclaimed in the Reformation. In response to various challenges, including those stemming from certain aspects of the Enlightenment and liberal theology, contemporary Evangelical faith has endeavored to defend this historical faith and to practice the piety of belief. The articles which are the basis of this Evangelical faith are the following:

1. The Bible, which consists of 66 books of the New and Old Testaments, was written by each writer under the perfect inspiration of the Holy Spirit. Thus in the original writings there is no error, and it contains all that God desires to reveal to human beings concerning salvation. The Bible is the single and absolute standard for faith and practice.
2. The living and true God is one, who is eternally existent in three persons – Father, Son and Holy Spirit.
3. God created all things, visible and invisible from nothing, the same being subject to His absolute sovereignty.
4. Adam was created in the image of God in right relation with God, but was tempted by Satan and sinned against the will of God, thereby incurring both the pollution and punishment of sin with the result of both spiritual and physical death. All human beings are therefore born with a sinful nature being sinners in thought, word and deed.
5. The Lord Jesus Christ is true God and true man. He was begotten by the Holy Spirit and born of the Virgin Mary, died on the cross for the sins of the world, was buried, and was raised again on the third day according to the Scripture. He ascended to heaven and sits at the right hand of God where he executes his ministry as high priest for us.
6. Because of the substitutionary death of our Lord Jesus Christ, all who believe in Him are forgiven of their sins and justified by faith and redeemed from the penalty and dominion of sin. There is no other way to salvation.
7. The Holy Spirit is a person whose ministry is to convict and regenerate sinful human beings, making them children of God, empowering them for a life of holiness and service, and conforming them to the image of Christ.
8. The church universal is the body of Christ, and all who are born again by the Holy Spirit become members thereof, Christ being the head. The church on earth, in a manner befitting Christ its head, should maintain purity of faith and life; and according to His command, should preach the Gospel to every creature.
9. Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, is coming again personally, bodily and visibly. He will raise bodily the just and the unjust, one to everlasting blessedness and the other to everlasting punishment, after which He will renew all things and deliver the kingdom to God the Father.

Foundation Principles

Providing practical theology education to foster workers for world missions, embracing Protestant evangelical faith, and serving 21st-century society and church across denominational lines.

1. Evangelical

Tokyo Christian University (TCU) is a theological educational institution with the purpose of educating ministers and lay workers (clergy and laity) to be well equipped with historical, orthodox theology, which stresses the evangelical view of the Bible as the infallible Word of God and as the only rule for faith and life. Upon this stance, TCU embraces its statement of faith, prepares a wide-ranging curriculum with theological depth, and aims at sending talented human resources well-grounded in orthodox theology out to evangelical churches.

2. Interdenominational Education

TCU was founded through the cooperation of three previous schools, each of which has made distinctive accomplishments in interdenominational education. TCU will create a greater potential by combining the talents previously dispersed among the three schools, and it expects to contribute to the service for and the development of both domestic and foreign churches trans-denominationally.

3. Practical Theological Education

While providing interdenominational theological education to serve diverse churches, TCU aims to respond individually and practically to the needs and expectations of evangelical churches and organizations since the areas of service have become more diverse today. Therefore, TCU aims to provide practical theological education based on biblical faith in order to foster an attitude of service to the church combined with a capacity for effective leadership, thus producing students who with brave and warm hearts exemplify the gospel in their personal lives.

4. Commitment to Global Missions

In response to the Great Commission of the Lord of Mission, Jesus Christ, TCU places world missions within its educational vision. It builds relationships with evangelical churches and theological institutions worldwide, in Asian countries in particular, contributing towards the eventual sending of missionaries and dedicated workers with an international spirit to the various fields home and abroad. By so doing, it will, in a positive manner, be involved in the precious task of building up of the Church as the Body of Christ that supersedes national and ethnic boundaries.

Admission Policy

Tokyo Christian University (TCU) is an inter-denominational Protestant institution that aims to train women and men to serve the church and society in the 21st century. Towards accomplishing this goal, TCU offers a wide-ranging liberal arts education and specialized education in Theological Studies, International Christian Studies, and Christian Welfare Studies, all based on a Christian worldview. Furthermore, TCU fosters holistic character education through dorm education and practical theological education.

An education at TCU will equip students to understand Christian theology, to fulfill their Christian mission in church and society, and to become capable of analyzing and integrating various issues critically and constructively with the ability to present their ideas persuasively to others. In addition, students will develop sensitivity to pain in the world, and they will polish their ability to collaborate with others from a position of understanding diverse others.

TCU seeks applicants who meet the following:

1. Those who have been baptized or, in the case of those who were baptized as infants, have made a public profession of faith.
2. Those who have expressed commitment to Christ and wish to serve in church and society in the future.
*TCU considers the word "commitment" to include anyone who wishes to serve God with their life, whether as a lay person or in full-time ministry.
3. Those who assent to TCU's founding principles and statement of faith.
4. Those who have a basic knowledge of the Bible and English language abilities, and who have basic competencies for independent thought and self-expression.
5. Those who can communicate effectively with others.

During TCU's admissions process, we will evaluate applicants' basic knowledge of the Bible, their possession of basic competencies for independent thought and self-expression, and their ability to communicate effectively with others. The methods and standards of evaluation for admission to TCU are given separately in the Guidelines for Admissions.

Diploma Policy

Tokyo Christian University grants the Bachelor of Arts in Theology degree to those who obtain the following abilities, including knowledge and abilities particular to each major, and who complete the credits prescribed in the curriculum.

1. Those who well understand Christian theology, and who acquire the will and abilities for practicing its mission in both church and society.
2. Those who are capable of analyzing and integrating various issues critically and constructively from a Christian worldview perspective, a theological perspective, and the perspective of their specific discipline, and are able to present their ideas to others persuasively.
3. Those who can sense various pains in the world, and who can collaborate with others while understanding their different perspectives.

Curriculum Policy

Tokyo Christian University aims to cultivate global citizens equipped with both a wide range of general knowledge and technical knowledge and abilities in order for them to serve in church and society according to the university's founding principles. Toward that end, Tokyo Christian University offers a liberal arts education based on a Christian worldview, and it offers education based on the following curricular ideals as they relate to the disciplines of Theological Studies and International Christian Welfare (with majors in International Christian Studies and Christian Welfare).

1. Form academic foundations in Christian worldview and theological studies.
2. Aim to acquire communication skills for a globalized world.
3. Establish systematic curricula in each discipline, enable the acquisition of specialized knowledge and methodologies through small classroom education, and cultivate working knowledge in each area.
4. Contend with contemporary issues related to information technology, the environment, life, gender, etc., and provide guiding principles for ethical foundations in confusing times.
5. Encourage students to take selected courses in other majors in order to create opportunities for interdisciplinary learning.
6. Through discussions in lecture-style classes and seminars, cultivate practical skills for analyzing and integrating various issues critically and constructively, for presenting them to others persuasively, and for reaching solutions.
7. Provide systematic career education so that students can systematically integrate their studies at TCU with their own life plans.
8. Offer various courses related to the youth ministry and church music minors.
9. In addition to the above curricular education, carry out character education through dorm life.

2. Scholarships

Given the low costs of tuition and room and board (especially compared to North American and other private colleges in developed countries), financial aid for Japanese students, North American students, Western European students, or other students coming from families or situations with comparable resources is limited. If the student's family does not have sufficient resources to pay the tuition and fees, the university expects students from these areas to take advantage of loans, support from their congregations, and similar resources. Nevertheless, if a student demonstrates financial need and lack of resources, he or she may qualify for some level of financial aid (grants and other scholarships). All students who have serious financial need, therefore, are encouraged to apply for financial aid.

It should be noted that although married persons are welcome to study at TCU, TCU does not provide any scholarship or other financial assistance for family members. And it is almost impossible for spouses without adequate Japanese to find jobs to cover their own expenses and that of any children. Therefore, only unmarried students without any obligation to support other people (parents, brothers, sisters, etc.) will find it practical to attend TCU while receiving financial aid.
