Statement of Faith

Tokyo Christian Institute is founded on the Biblical, historical and orthodox rule of faith, which was consistently revealed in both the Old and the New Testaments, expressed in the Ecumenical Creeds of the Ancient Church, and proclaimed in the Reformation. In response to various challenges, including those stemming from certain aspects of the Enlightenment and liberal theology, contemporary Evangelical faith has endeavored to defend this historical faith and to practice the piety of belief. The articles which are the basis of this Evangelical faith are the following:

1. The Bible, which consists of 66 books of the New and Old Testaments, was written by each writer under the perfect inspiration of the Holy Spirit. Thus, in the original writings there is no error, and it contains all that God desires to reveal to human beings concerning salvation. The Bible is the single and absolute standard for faith and practice.
2. The living and true God is one, who is eternally existent in three persons – Father, Son and Holy Spirit.
3. God created all things, visible and invisible from nothing, the same being subject to His absolute sovereignty.
4. Adam was created in the image of God in right relation with God, but was tempted by Satan and sinned against the will of God, thereby incurring both the pollution and punishment of sin with the result of both spiritual and physical death. All human beings are therefore born with a sinful nature being sinners in thought, word, and deed.
5. The Lord Jesus Christ is true God and true man. He was begotten by the Holy Spirit and born of the Virgin Mary, died on the cross for the sins of the world, was buried, and was raised again on the third day according to the Scripture. He ascended to heaven and sits at the right hand of God where he executes his ministry as high priest for us.
6. Because of the substitutionary death of our Lord Jesus Christ, all who believe in Him are forgiven of their sins and justified by faith and redeemed from the penalty and dominion of sin. There is no other way to salvation.
7. The Holy Spirit is a person whose ministry is to convict and regenerate sinful human beings, making them children of God, empowering them for a life of holiness and service, and conforming them to the image of Christ.
8. The church universal is the body of Christ, and all who are born again by the Holy Spirit become members thereof, Christ being the head. The church on earth, in a manner befitting Christ its head, should maintain purity of faith and life; and according to His command, should preach the Gospel to every creature.
9. Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, is coming again personally, bodily, and visibly. He will raise bodily the just and the unjust, one to everlasting blessedness and the other to everlasting punishment, after which He will renew all things and deliver the kingdom to God the Father.

Foundation Principles

Providing practical theology education to foster workers for world missions, embracing Protestant evangelical faith, and serving 21st-century society and church across denominational lines.

1. Evangelical

Tokyo Christian University (TCU) is a theological educational institution with the purpose of educating ministers and lay workers (clergy and laity) to be well equipped with historical, orthodox theology, which stresses the evangelical view of the Bible as the infallible Word of God and as the only rule for faith and life. Upon this stance, TCU embraces its statement of faith, prepares a wide-ranging curriculum with theological depth, and aims at sending talented human resources well-grounded in orthodox theology out to evangelical churches.

2. Interdenominational Education

TCU was founded through the cooperation of three previous schools, each of which has made distinctive accomplishments in interdenominational education. TCU will create a greater potential by combining the talents previously dispersed among the three schools, and it expects to contribute to the service for and the development of both domestic and foreign churches trans-denominationally.

3. Practical Theological Education

While providing interdenominational theological education to serve diverse churches, TCU aims to respond individually and practically to the needs and expectations of evangelical churches and organizations since the areas of service have become more diverse today. Therefore, TCU aims to provide practical theological education based on biblical faith in order to foster an attitude of service to the church combined with a capacity for effective leadership, thus producing students who with brave and warm hearts exemplify the gospel in their personal lives.

4. Commitment to Global Missions

In response to the Great Commission of the Lord of Mission, Jesus Christ, TCU places world missions within its educational vision. It builds relationships with evangelical churches and theological institutions worldwide, in Asian countries in particular, contributing towards the eventual sending of missionaries and dedicated workers with an international spirit to the various fields home and abroad. By so doing, it will, in a positive manner, be involved in the precious task of building up of the Church as the Body of Christ that supersedes national and ethnic boundaries.

Admission Policy

Tokyo Christian University (TCU) aims to train and educate people to serve God and others in the church beyond denominational boundaries and in society, while possessing a passion for world missions and a Christian worldview and calling based on Protestant evangelical principles.

Through its liberal arts education, holistic character development through dormitory education and chapel services, and specialized studies in each major, TCU works to foster a gospel-driven understanding of the Bible and broad theological knowledge, a disposition to serve people and society, cultural literacy, zeal with knowledge for serving God and the church, and the ability to think and act responsibly.

TCU seeks applicants who meet the following criteria:

1. Those who have been baptized or, for those baptized as infants, have made a public profession of faith.
2. Those who have expressed commitment to Christ and wish to serve in the church and society in the future.¹
3. Those who assent to TCU's founding principles and statement of faith.
4. Those who have a basic knowledge of the Bible, and who have basic competencies for independent thought and self-expression.
5. Those who can communicate effectively with others.

During TCU's admissions process, TCU will evaluate applicants' basic knowledge of the Bible, their possession of basic competencies for independent thought and self-expression, and their ability to communicate effectively with others. The methods and standards of evaluation for admission to TCU are given separately in the Guidelines for Admissions.

¹ This includes not only those who hope to become pastors and missionaries, but anyone who wishes to serve Christ in this world.

Educational Objectives

Tokyo Christian University (TCU) aims to train and educate people to serve God and others in the church beyond denominational boundaries and in society, while possessing a passion for world missions and a Christian worldview and calling based on Protestant evangelical principles. Towards accomplishing this goal, TCU works at cultivating character, broad cultural literacy, specialized knowledge in theology, and the ability to think and act responsibly.

Diploma Policy

Tokyo Christian University grants the Bachelor of Arts degree to those who are enrolled for the prescribed period, who obtain the required credits by completing the courses designed to meet the University's "Educational Objectives," and who pass the final graduation evaluation by the faculty. In addition to lecture classes, the education offered to students includes seminars, internships, field experience, and graduation projects, as well as dormitory education and speaking at a graduation chapel.

The Bachelor of Arts will be granted to those who fulfill the following criteria:

1. A personal understanding of the core concepts of Protestant Evangelicalism.
2. A positive grasp of TCU's interdenominational principles.
3. Acquisition of theological knowledge in fitting with the curriculum, and the ability to apply it.
4. Attainment of a disposition to serve people and society as a Christian, as well as broad cultural literacy and the ability to apply it.
5. Development of a passion to serve God and the church, and the knowledge necessary to do so.

Curriculum Policy

Tokyo Christian University has established its Curriculum Policy as follows in order to determine what kind of curriculum to develop, what kind of educational content and methodologies to offer, and how to evaluate educational outcomes. The aim of the Curriculum Policy is to fulfill the Diploma Policy based on the University's "Founding Principles" and "Philosophy and Mission." Through this Curriculum Policy, TCU aims to train students to become Christians who possess a gospel-driven understanding of the Bible and broad theological knowledge, with practical abilities to passionately serve God and people. (The codes inside parentheses correspond to objectives in TCU's Diploma Policy [DP].)

[1] Course Offerings

- a. TCU offers the opportunity for theological studies broadly covering the traditional fields of Biblical Theology, Systematic Theology, Historical Theology, and Practical Theology, based on the principles of Protestant Evangelicalism and interdenominationalism. (DP-1, 2)
- b. TCU offers liberal arts courses necessary for understanding people and society. (DP-2, 4)
- c. TCU offers a curriculum with opportunities to study in both Japanese and English in order to train Christians capable of working broadly in society. (DP-4)
- d. TCU offers courses in fields such as Practical Theology, Global Studies, Youth Studies, and Christian Social Work to train Christians who possess practical skills for serving God and people with an understanding of different cultures and other people. (DP-1, 3, 4)

[2] Course Organization

- a. To encourage a personal approach to studies, TCU arranges courses with learning opportunities ranging from foundational academic skills to specialized knowledge in an easy-to-understand way using course numbers. (DP-1, 2, 3)
- b. From among a broad selection of theological courses, TCU offers multiple majors (curricular models) and minors connected to clear visions of the future and encourages students to choose a path that will enable them to pursue their personal interests and future goals. TCU offers these majors: Church Ministry, Global Studies, Youth Studies, Christian Social Work, and Theological Studies. (DP-4, 5)
- c. TCU creates and provides students with course syllabi that clearly set forth course objectives, contents, teaching and learning methods, evaluation methods, etc. Additionally, TCU provides students and faculty with a "curriculum map" giving a detailed visual representation of the Curriculum Policy in order to ensure a shared understanding of the curriculum throughout the university. (DP-3)
- d. TCU works to offer courses more effectively and to improve course content through the implementation of course evaluations by students at the end of each term. (DP-3)

[3] Methods and Evaluation of Learning

- a. In order to minimize the distance between students and faculty and to encourage more active learning, TCU provides a diverse range of learning opportunities through lecture-based and discussion-based classes – mostly comprising small numbers of students – as well as internships, practicums, and graduation research projects. (DP-3, 4, 5)

- b. In order to promote meaningful participation and collaboration among students, TCU provides learning opportunities that adopt various “active learning” methods, such as small group discussions and student presentations in class. (DP-3, 4, 5)
- c. In order to train Christians who possess practical skills and collaborative abilities for serving society and the church, TCU requires attendance at chapel¹ and local church services, and it provides opportunities for education through dorm life. (DP-4, 5)
- d. In addition to regular course grades, multiple forms of evaluation by other parties, including student self-evaluations and interviews with faculty, are used to achieve a comprehensive evaluation of learning outcomes for assessing the competencies needed in order to graduate. (DP-1, 2, 4, 5)

[4] Learning Support

- a. TCU assigns each student a faculty advisor to provide personal support, including academic guidance and career counseling. (DP-3)
- b. TCU creates opportunities for meaningful exchange among upperclassmen and lowerclassmen² to foster the development of a learning community in which students can support one another. (DP-4, 5)
- c. TCU provides a support system for students who experience learning difficulties. (DP-3)
- d. TCU provides a student counseling room to respond to students’ diverse needs, including both mental and physical issues. (DP-4, 5)

[5] First-Year Education

- a. For first-year students – in addition to courses that focus on equipping students with foundational skills for academic study at the university level, and courses that give overviews of theological studies – TCU offers practical learning opportunities necessary for building a sense of belonging to the university learning community, and for developing a Christian worldview. (DP-1, 2, 3, 5)
- b. TCU introduces to first-year students a diverse range of curricular models and provides them with opportunities to interact with faculty and upperclassmen.³ The purpose is to enable them to plan their studies individually and enthusiastically according to their personal interests and callings. (DP-3, 5)
- c. TCU uses pre-university education results in order to learn about students in need of support and then begin supporting them immediately upon matriculation. (DP-3)
- d. TCU begins its career education from the first year and supports students in forming specific visions for the future. (DP-4)

Implementation of the Curriculum Policy (CP)

- TCU aims to implement the curriculum policy methodically by including codes for underlying curriculum policies (e.g., CP-1a, CP-3c) in documentation related to undergraduate courses and their content, and related to other educational programs and activities designed for students.
- TCU’s faculty and staff will bear in mind the university’s “Education PDCA Cycle” and continue to implement revisions and improvements as needed by regularly confirming that their work is in accordance with the Curriculum Policy and the Diploma Policy.

¹ “Chapel services” refers to worship services that all students attend from Tuesday to Friday each week.

^{2,3} This includes orientation for new students, spring retreats, small group chapels, and other student activities.

Regarding the Reorganization of Departments and Curriculum

TCU integrated two departments into the Theological Studies Department starting in April 2021. Those who enroll in TCU as first-year students will select their majors at the beginning of their 3rd year. There are five majors in the Theological Studies Department: Theological Studies (J/E), Global Studies (J/E), Church Ministry (J), Youth Studies (J), and Christian Social Work (J)*.

*Medium of language for each major: J/E = both Japanese and English; J = Japanese only

Regarding the Entrance Examination in Response to COVID-19

Depending on future infection rates of COVID-19, the application schedule and procedure may be carried out differently from what is written in the Application Guide. In that case, the Admissions Office will inform applicants individually by email. Please contact the Admissions Office if you have any problem taking university entrance qualification examinations, standardized tests (SAT, ACT, etc.), or English proficiency tests due to COVID-19.

1. Admissions

1-1 Admission Eligibility

- Acceptance to TCU may be revoked if any false statements/information or forged signatures are found within submitted documents, even after enrollment.

1-7 Transferring Credits

Most credits earned at another accredited university will transfer to Tokyo Christian University if the courses are applicable to a liberal arts program. Courses of a vocational or technical nature or courses in which a C or D grade was earned are not transferable. TCU reserves the right to decide the acceptability and applicability of degrees and credits earned at other institutions. Grades for credits accepted for transfer courses are not included when determining a student's cumulative grade point average at TCU. A maximum of 60 credits may be applied toward a degree at TCU. Students must complete a total of 124 credits including transferred credits to graduate from TCU.

1-8 Important Notes

Important Note A: Official Academic Transcript

<Official Academic Transcript>

Official academic transcripts from all higher education institutions are required. Official academic transcripts should be mailed directly from the issuing institution to TCU. Alternatively, applicants may send their transcripts along with their application packet making sure that the transcript is separately enclosed in a sealed envelope. An official electronic transcript directly sent from the issuing institution is also acceptable if the applicant's school has such a system. The electronic transcript should be sent to the Admissions Office (admission@tci.ac.jp).

Generally speaking, applicants with less than about 30 credits should submit their high school transcripts together with a transcript of their college coursework. Applicants whose Japanese proficiency level is intermediate or above are encouraged to make that explicit when they contact the Admissions Office.

Students who are currently enrolled and taking classes elsewhere must send an updated transcript with final grades and GPA upon completion of their term and before matriculation at TCU.

In case your official transcript cannot be reissued, a photocopy or replication of the transcript is acceptable (copy both front and back). The copy, however, must bear an original mark, seal, or signature of the issuing institution (see "Authenticity of the documents" below).

*Authenticity of the documents

To ensure the authenticity of the documents, we ask applicants to submit original documents. However, we understand that applicants may wish to keep certain documents that can be issued only once, such as diplomas, academic transcripts, etc. For such documents, the Admissions Office will accept certified copies in place of the original documents.

Note: The Admissions Office does not accept certified copies of English proficiency test results. Refer to Important Note B for the details.

<Difference between certified copies and original documents>

A certified copy is a copy of the original certificate that has been deemed the equivalent of the original with an official seal from the issuing institution (e.g., a school or test center) or other authorized institutions (e.g., a notary public). The official seal proves the validity of the certified copy.

<Institutions which can issue a certified copy>

Applicants should request the issuing institution to issue a certified copy. If the issuing institution cannot issue a certified copy, it is possible to request it from a notary public, embassy, or public institution that is responsible for education in your country (e.g., Ministry of Education). Note: Translation agencies and/or your church are not authorized to certify your documents.

<Procedure to have a document certified>

- 1) Prepare the original document.
- 2) Have one of the institutions mentioned in the <Institutions which can issue a certified copy> produce a copy of the original document.
- 3) Have the institution add an original mark, seal, or signature on the copy certifying the copy is equivalent to the original document. Note: Applicants are required to submit the original version of the certified document or certified copy (that is, the documents that have been stamped with the official seal of the institution or signed by an official at the institution).

4) In case the original document is not in English or Japanese:

Applicants should request the issuing institution to issue an official English document and follow step 1–3, above.

In case the issuing institution cannot issue the document in English, applicants should ask a translation agency to translate the original document into English. The translated document should be certified by a notary public to prove the translation is faithful to the original. Translations made by the applicant him/herself or applicants' friends, family are not acceptable.

Important Note B: English Proficiency Test Results

Demonstration of English proficiency is an important part of the application process. Unless they meet one or more of the criteria for waiving the English proficiency test requirement (see below), applicants should submit one of the English proficiency test results listed in the table below.

Recommended Minimum English Proficiency Requirement
TOEFL iBT®	TOEFL iBT® Special Home Edition	IELTS	IELTS Indicator	TOEIC® L&R and S&W*	Cambridge English Language Assessment	Duolingo English Test
	85		7.0	1840	C1(CAE)	120

*L&R=Listening and Reading. S&W=Speaking and Writing.

- The official test scores must be no more than two years old.
- The official test results must be sent directly to the Admissions Office from the test centers by the deadline. We recommend that you register early, as test centers fill up quickly.
- In case your official score report will not be delivered by the application deadline, submit your student score report along with other application documents. The Admissions Office will hold the student score report as a back-up copy and replace it after the official test result is received.
- TCU school code: TOEFL '8472'. (The Admissions Office will accept both Test Date score and MyBest™ score.)
- Contact the Admissions Office if you wish to submit an English proficiency test result which is not listed above.

<Criteria for waiving the English proficiency test requirement>

If an applicant fulfills one or more of the criteria below, he or she may have this requirement waived.

- a) You have completed or will have completed your 12th year of formal education in the English language in Anguilla, Antigua and Barbuda, Australia, Bahamas, Barbados, Belize, Bermuda, British Solomon Island, British Virgin Islands, Canada (except Quebec), Cayman Islands, Channel Islands, Dominica, Ghana, Grenada, Guyana, Jamaica, Liberia, Montserrat, New Zealand, Saint Kitts and Nevis, Saint Lucia, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, Singapore, Trinidad and Tobago, Turks and Caicos, the Republic of Ireland, the United Kingdom, and the United States.
- b) Before enrolling at TCU, you have taken or will have taken your most recent three years of formal education in the English language in a country other than those listed above, and you submit either an academic transcript indicating the language of instruction was English or a letter from your school stating that you have taken all subjects in English (excluding foreign language courses) for all three years. (Students in home school and unaccredited secondary schools may still be expected to submit an English proficiency test result if they do not submit an SAT or ACT score report.)
- c) You have received or will receive an International Baccalaureate Diploma with English as the language of instruction.
- d) You are enrolled or have been enrolled in a college degree program (BA, MA, etc.) at an accredited college or university with English as the language of instruction. (Accreditation must be from an internationally recognized accreditation agency. Please contact the Admissions Office if you have any questions about this exemption.)
- e) You have received one of the following standardized test scores:
 - Old SAT (Critical Reading and Writing): 930 or above
 - New SAT (Evidence-Based Reading and Writing): 520 or above
 - ACT: 18 or above (average of English and Reading)
 - TCU school code: SAT '6898', ACT '7963'

<Those who are unable to submit an English proficiency test score due to inaccessibility and/or economic hardship>

Applicants for whom it is impossible to submit an English proficiency test result because of inaccessibility and/or economic hardship must submit the "English Proficiency Evaluation" form. Please note, however, that the Admissions Office places much higher emphasis on official test results.

1-9 Application Fee

Please pay the application fee when submitting your application to TCU. Applications will be considered only when the application fee has been paid.

Application fee Regular fee: 5,000 yen Discounted fee: 2,500 yen

- If you are a citizen of a country listed below and you reside in a country listed below, you may pay the discounted application fee of 2,500 yen. This includes applicants with double citizenship, even if one of their countries of citizenship is not listed below. All others should pay the regular application fee of 5,000 yen.
- We understand that some applicants may find the application fee (whether regular or discounted) to be a financial burden. In such cases, TCU expects the applicant to raise support within their extended family, church, and/or local community. This is because the application fee does not merely go towards covering administrative costs. It also demonstrates applicants' commitment to the application process and, in some cases, other people's faith in their ability to succeed at TCU.
- The application fee is not refundable.
- Waivers of the application fee may be granted by the Admissions Office only in extraordinary circumstances.

How to pay the application fee

- Click the appropriate link or scan the appropriate QR code and make your payment.
- If you do not own a credit card, you are expected to find someone in your family, church, or community who can process the payment on your behalf. If the fee is paid under the name of someone other than the applicant, the applicant should notify the Admissions Office of the payer's name and expected date of payment via email (admission@tci.ac.jp).
- If you or someone else cannot pay the fee by credit card, it should be possible to pay the fee via bank transfer. However, extra fees will apply. The applicant will be responsible for any additional fee incurred at the bank from which they send payment, plus an additional fee of ¥2,500 to cover the bank fee for receiving the transfer in Japan. Please contact the Admissions Office for more information (admission@tci.ac.jp).

2. Scholarships

Given the low costs of tuition and room and board (especially compared to North American and other private colleges in developed countries), financial aid for Japanese students, North American students, Western European students, or other students coming from families or situations with comparable resources is limited. If the student's family does not have sufficient resources to pay the tuition and fees, the university expects students from these areas to take advantage of loans, support from their congregations, and similar resources. Nevertheless, if a student demonstrates financial need and lack of resources, he or she may qualify for some level of financial aid (grants and other scholarships). All students who have serious financial need, therefore, are encouraged to apply for financial aid.

It should be noted that, although married persons are welcome to study at TCU, TCU does not provide any financial assistance for family members. And it is difficult for spouses without adequate Japanese to find jobs to cover their expenses and those of any children. Therefore, only unmarried students without any obligation to support other people (parents, brothers, sisters, etc.) will find it practical to attend TCU while receiving financial aid.

2-1 TCU Scholarships

Financial aid decisions are made after admissions decisions. Therefore, applicants who apply for financial aid should not expect to receive scholarship application results until some time after they receive admissions application results. Scholarship awards are made on a year-to-year basis. It will be necessary, therefore, for students in need of financial aid to submit a financial aid application each year they wish to be considered. You can apply for all scholarships for which you are eligible.
